

Are you thriving in the brave new world of social business or floundering in a sea of Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, YouTube, FourSquare, Picasa, Flickr, blogs, and more?

Chuck Hall, a Bucks County business professional, will help you understand these new social technologies and how they will help your business or nonprofit organization be more successful.

Who should attend? Business owners, professionals, leaders and managers or anyone interested in social business!

Workshops are being offered throughout the county. Check the online calendar for locations and dates and to register.

Any questions, please call the library offering the workshop.
